

"HARD TO SUCCEED IF ONE'S PRETTY," GIRL TRIES TO DIE

Policeman Grabs Her as She Prepares to Leap Into the River.

When Mary Morgan was thirteen years old she came to New York, where she was told there were opportunities on every hand to get along in the world. Back in De Soto, Mo., she left a father and mother in poor circumstances. The father was crippled and could make but little money. The family would need whatever Mary could send them of her earnings in New York.

The girl had a practical knowledge of stenography, faith in herself, faith in men and faith in the future. For ten years she struggled. Somehow the money was not as easy to make as she had imagined it would be when she came here. Mary had a pretty face, which made it all the harder to win success, she found—no success and not depart from her ideals. "Bye and bye I will win, though," she said to herself, and went on fighting the battle.

Every week she sent money back to De Soto. Sometimes, when the needs of her parents were more pressing than usual, she had to practice little economies, such as eating only a sandwich for lunch when she really needed more to give her strength for a laborious day. Monday evening she went to the rooming house kept by Mrs. B. Mahoney, at No. 20 West Fourth street. She paid Mrs. Mahoney $2 and was given a small room on the top floor at the rear. All that day she remained in her room. Tuesday she was out a while and, when she returned, told Mrs. Mahoney that she was lonely.

Just before daybreak to-day Policeman Hughes was on fixed post at Twelfth avenue and Twenty-eighth street. He saw a young woman walking toward the pier at Twenty-eighth street. Her head was bowed and she was muttering to herself.

The policeman suspected what the droop in the young woman's figure meant. He believed that she wanted to die, so he followed softly. At the edge of the pier she was about to leap. Hughes seized her.

"Let me go!" she shrieked. "I want to die—I want to die!"

It was fully a minute before the policeman could subdue her. When she was somewhat calmer he asked her why she wanted to drown herself.

"They've put another girl in my place," she said. "She works for less."

Then she told him who she was and a little of her story.

The policeman called an ambulance and Mary Morgan was taken to Bellevue and placed in the psychopathic ward.

DIPLOMATIC.
(From the Cleveland Leader.)

Sir Edwin Landseer, the famous animal painter, said that when he was a boy he once witnessed a fight between two dogs, one of which belonged to an Irishman who was a retired prizefighter. The Irishman's dog was badly beaten and the fact was a source of deep chagrin to the owner. But as only he and the painter had seen the fight, he asked the latter in a decidedly significant way which of the dogs won.

"Why," was the reply, "your dog won, of course. He was underneath the other dog, but he was chewing the life out of the cur all the time!"

"That's right," said the Irishman; "you have saved your lotte."

BUY YOUR PIANO AT MACY'S AND SAVE 40% OF THE PRICE TWO MEN AND A MORAL

Man No. 1 bought a Piano on the installment plan. He paid $25.00 down and agreed to pay $20.00 a month for eleven or twelve months more.

He goes on paying for five or six months after the actual value of the Piano was paid up.

Man No. 1 had the use of this Piano six or seven months before Man No. 2 and he paid $115.00 extra for that privilege.

If you want to pay $250.00 for a $135.00 Piano, almost any house in the United States except Macy's will oblige you. If you want to buy a 10-year guaranteed Piano for $135.00 cash, Macy's is prepared to do business with you.

CASH only at Macy's—and VALUE

When you buy a Piano on the installment plan you pay 30% to 40% interest on the money that you "borrow" from the installment plan store. You cannot GET 30% to 40% on your money—why should you GIVE it?

"STRAUS" UPRIGHT PIANOS, $135.00

"Straus" Style B Piano is a full size upright grand, with very handsome carved or plain polished mahogany case.

In the construction of this instrument only the best quality materials are used. It has ivory keys, copper brass strings, brass flange action, and high grade hammers.

Included at this price is a mahogany stool to match, and one year's free tuning service. The instrument will be delivered free to your home, if located within our wagon delivery limits, or the instrument will be delivered free, crated for shipment, to any freight station in New York City.

Pianos of this quality sell on the installment plan for $225.00 to $250.00.

Pianos at prices from $115.00 to $295.00

"STRAUS" 88-Note PLAYER-PIANO, $275.00

The Same Player-Piano is Sold on the Installment Plan Elsewhere for $400.00

This exceptionally fine instrument is equipped with a tracking device that is as accurate as those to be found in Piano-Players at much higher prices.

Many Player-Pianos have no tracking device, and the music must be adjusted by hand, hindering the continuity of the music.

Even to be used as an ordinary Piano, apart from this Player attachment, "Straus" 88-Note Player-Piano is excellent value at our special price of $275.00.

Player-Pianos up to $500.00

Macy's

Diamonds & Jewelry

The Most Exquisite Display in the History of Macy's

THE Macy stock of Diamonds is unusual in one respect. It includes few stones that are not perfect and practically none that are not pure white. It is a fixed Macy principle to exclude Diamonds that are even slightly off-color such as find a ready market as "bargains" in the average store, especially at this season of the year.

Buying Diamonds at Macy's means getting tested jewels, it means buying merchandise prices, not fancy prices. It means safety as well as economy.

Specialty Jewelry Stores base their reputation upon fine stones, in artistic settings, at high prices.

Macy's bases its reputation upon fine stones, artistic settings, and low prices.

Buying Diamonds at Macy's is a form of investment—SAFE investment. For the value of high grade stones is steadily increasing, and GOOD stones bought now will without doubt be worth appreciably more in twelve months' time.
